Blood Grouping camp

Blood grouping camp

In association with blood donation forum of St. Thomas College Pala, every academic year the department of microbiology and Biotechnology has conducted a blood grouping campaign among the first year students of UG, and PG programmes. The students of this department were actively participating in this campaign under the supervisions and guide lines of their teachers. This campaign definitely encourages the students to donate their blood to the needy people. Furthermore after this camp every student who participates in this activity becomes conscious about his blood group.

Rice Cultivation

On 16th October 2018, Paddy cultivation was done by 2017 & 2018 batch students of B.Voc(Sustainable Agriculture) of St.Thomas College,Palai at South Kidangoor Padasekharam. The area cultivated was 0.5 hectare (1.235 Acres)

The peculiarity of this rice cultivation was introduction of mechanisation in cultivation for the first time in South Kidangoor padasekharam. Mat nursery was prepared and transplanting was done using transplanter with the assistance from KrishiVigyan Kendra (KVK) of Kerala Agricultural University. Since we have introduced machines in cultivation, seed rate was reduced to 20Kg. Variety used was Jyothi.

Students cleaned the field bunds and bunds were prepared neatly. Tractors were used for field ploughing and land preparation. Small trenches were made on one side based on water flow for controlling iron toxicity and lime was also applied. Students also got training in how to use tillers for puddling the rice field.

Maize plants were planted on bunds as a part of ecological engineering. Seeds were treated with Pseudomonas to reduce diseases. Transplanting of rice seedlings was done by transplanter. Students operated the machine and farmers from different Panchayats, Primary School students, Agricultural officer etc.also came to see the transplanter and its operation. Fertilizers and manures were applied as per package of practices of Kerala Agricultural University. Solar light trap was placed. Pseudomonas spray was given, Foliar application of fertilizer was also done.

Harvesting, Threshing and winnowing was done on 19th February 2019 using combined harvester. A yield of 2.5 tons was obtained. It was a good yield and the harvesting was inaugurated by college Principal Dr. James John Mangalath. Block Panchayath Member, Panchayath President, Agricultural Officer, Teachers of the Department of Vocational Education, farmers of the locality etc were also present.

Impact assessment of flood 2018 on Periyar River

Impact assessment of flood 2018 on Periyar River

Place at which field project is carried out: River Periyar Kumily to Kothamangalam

Principal Investigator: Dr. Jomy Augustine

During August 2018, Kerala state (India) experienced some of the most severe extreme rainfall events (EREs) on record. This resulted in extensive flooding and landslides across most districts of the state, causing severe damage to both the built and natural ecosystems. According to the India Meteorological Department (IMD), the occurrence of the EREs in August 2018 was mainly due to formation of monsoon depressions over the Bay of Bengal and the westnorthwestward movement of the depression over coastal Odisha and neighbourhood. On an average, Kerala received significantly high Indian summer monsoon rainfall (ISMR) from 1 June 2018 to 19 August 2018 (2346.6 mm), which is roughly 42% above the normal rainfall for the same period.

Among the different districts of the state, Idukki received the maximum rainfall, which was almost 100% excess compared to the normal rainfall (3555 mm against the normal 1852 mm). During the first 19 days of August 2018, Kerala received 164% above normal rainfall, of which the major share was from two EREs during 8–10 and 14–19 in August 2018. The two rain gauge stations that realized maximum cumulative rainfall during 15–17 August 2018 was Peerumedu (>800 mm) and Idukki (>700 mm), both belonging to Idukki district in the Western Ghats. The highland physiography of Kerala supports numerous dams and reservoirs, which are predominantly designed for hydroelectric power generation as well as irrigation purposes.

The state has experienced the onset of monsoon in the beginning of June 2018, and by the end of July 2018 most of the reservoirs in the state were almost near FRL. This rare combination of the occurrence of the EREs, along with near full reservoir level (FRL) reservoir storages, made the situation challenging and compelled the authorities to open the gates of most of the dams in the state, which resulted in severe flooding in 13 out of 14 districts of the state. The extent of damage due to this flooding was preliminarily estimated to be to the tune of INR 20,000 crores. In addition, a loss of about 55,000 ha of agricultural land was also estimated as caused by the flood.

In this circumstances the Department of Botany in association with Centre for Environment and Development, Government of Kerala has been made the impact assessment of flood in River Periyar. The results of the assessment is tabulated and given below;

Renovation of houses affected by landslide

Renovation work of a House

As part of the 'Re-build Kerala', a campaign initiated by the Govt. of Kerala in view of the flood in July and August 2018, the National Service Scheme unit of St. Thomas College, Palai decided to help in the renovation of a house which was affected by the flood.

The NSS volunteers delivered materials for the construction of a house in Ward VI of Konnathady GramaPanchayath. The house was of Mrs. Mini Raju, which was being built under the Life Mission Project, Govt. of Kerala.

The house was located on the slope of a hill and about two hundred meter down from the road. A rope way was fixed between the road and the house which was operated with the help of a jeep and this facilitated us to transfer the construction materials. Our volunteers worked the whole day, lunch was cooked in the camp and brought to the construction site and served.

Science Popularization Campaign

SCIENCE POPULARIZATION CAMPAIGN

The Department is dedicated to take every step for the popularization of science and scientific knowledge among the primary, high school and higher secondary school students, college students, teachers, NGOs and the public. This was chosen as a mission of the department, since its inception, and activities have been organizing to fulfill the dictum. The faculty members of the department published several scholarly research articles and text books during the last many years to equip teachers, research scholars and students with up-to-date knowledge in the frontier areas of science, especially chemistry. This is mainly as part of their teaching and research career.

In addition to this the faculty members, students and research scholars of the department published several articles during these years in popular science magazines with an intention to inculcate rational and scientific knowledge among the students and the public. 'Saasthrapadham', a popular science magazine, published in Malayalam language with wide circulation among the school and college students and the public all over Kerala is used by our faculty and students as an excellent platform for propagating this motto. Dr. G. D. Gem Mathew, Associate Professor of the chemistry department serves as the chief editor of the magazine and Dr. Sunny Kuriakose, HOD of chemistry department serves as the editor of chemistry section of the magazine for more than a decade. During the academic year 2018-2019 the following scientific articles were published in the popular science magazine.
